

MRSI to offer die bonding demonstrations at Productronica

MRSI Systems (Mycronic Group) will be exhibiting with Mycronic at Productronica. Product demos will be offered at the Mycronic Booth #341 in Hall A3 (SMT Cluster). The exhibition will be held at Messe München in Munich, Germany from November 12-15, 2019.

MRSI will demonstrate the industry-leading 1.5 micrometer die bonder, MRSI-H-LD for high-volume manufacturing of advanced photonics and RF/microwave devices. The system is optimized for applications that bond large die for high-power laser diodes, industrial lasers, optical fiber amplifiers, power amplifiers, lighting, and sensors. This versatile assembly solution enables our customers to scale their business by delivering high throughput, high reliability, and high flexibility.

MRSI recently announced the upgrade of the machine accuracy to ± 1.5 micrometers at 3 sigma for the high speed product line, under their new names: MRSI-HVM and MRSI-H. For more on these changes, view the press release.
